

Hollywood Culture War

Deep in the heart of our nation, a war is waging. The clash of worldviews has made its way to the multimedia empire of Hollywood. And Hollywood has chosen Marxism. The quality of films has drastically declined as woke nonsense has replaced good stories. Many Christians in Hollywood have come forward to relate the challenges they face when living out their faith in an industry that directly opposes it.

Many have been forced to silence their spiritual voices submitting to the ideological mandates of Hollywood elites. However, there are those who refuse to be silenced and refuse to compromise Biblical values. These heroes stand in the face of great evil and choose to risk their careers to remain obedient to God.

Now, more than ever before, it is essential for the American Church to rise up and fight for righteousness and liberty in the face of evil. Before it is too late.

In this briefing we will discuss the following:

- » The Culture War
- » Letter to the American Church Documentary
- » Against the Current – Challenging Hollywood

YOUR MISSION: Learn about the culture war, how Hollywood is actively working to destroy America, and the Letter to the American Church documentary that serves as a watchman's call to wake the sleeping Church to face this invasive evil.

⚠ ATTENTION: Globalist elites are using Hollywood to push their Marxist agendas but films like Letter to the American Church are challenging the globalist elites and calling the American people to fight for liberty.

1. The Culture War

America faces an undeniable threat as two major cultures clash in the public arena. This culture war makes our nation seem more polarized than ever before, though, this is misleading.

The American people have generally been polarized over political issues with the swing state voters deciding many elections. However, tensions have increased in recent years as the topics that have been polarized have shifted from tax codes and international wars to personal moral obligations.

With morality being at the core of the debate, people's ways of life are under threat. This has escalated the debate, and Hollywood has become increasingly involved.

"I don't want this to be a communist nation. This is America, people didn't come here for communism. They came here for liberty. The people that have left Venezuela and come here legally, they came here because they said, hey, this failed in my nation. The Chinese people who've come here and said, 'Hey, look, I watched Marxism take over and ruin a beautiful country. Regarding China, you the Chinese people are wonderful but Marxism is terrible. That's just the bottom line. And yet Marxism has infiltrated Hollywood, particularly cultural Marxism, but also across the board. So we had a Hollywood summit at LibertyHawk Ranch to address this." –Kevin Freeman

Over the last decades, Hollywood has shifted dramatically. Hollywood has always been known for its left-leaning bias and the hedonism of many of its elites, but the bias was slight and the hedonism was rarely on public display.

Children's programs and films used to be family-oriented and shared great moral lessons to inspire children to grow up to be good people, now those same programs are being used to indoctrinate children into accepting the ideologies of the radical left.

Hollywood no longer attempts to mask their bias and is pushing Marxism in almost every film and TV show they produce—just as they also promote the LGBTQ agenda in everything.

"The industry has completely changed in Hollywood, and I wanted to put out good content that would affect people's hearts and their minds, and that would speak truth to the culture... There's a real shift toward DEI (diversity, equity, inclusion). But we're seeing that across all corporations and we're seeing what a horrible effect it's having. We're not hiring people based on their ability. We're hiring them based on their melanin content... So, we really, as a culture, have shifted pretty far in the opposite direction... we need to get back in and engage and take back this country and the liberties that we were founded on." –Rachel Tash

Rachel has seen first-hand the dramatic shift in Hollywood over the last few years.

She has worked on many projects, including some Spider-Man films, that were well-received and encouraged great American values.

Sadly, as Marxism has become the focus of Hollywood in recent years, Rachel noticed that the good stories that made the American film industry great were fading away, and the quality of what was being produced was declining rapidly.

The issue is simple, cultural Marxism is the antithesis of the values America was founded upon.

“I basically drank the Kool-Aid of Hollywood and the excitement of being an actress and a model. And when I came to the Lord, things really shifted for me. I stepped away from Hollywood. I went into ministry for a season. I shared my testimony across the country with thousands of young girls. And I think the two, the Hollywood background and the ministry background, really ended up merging well together because I always felt like, and I knew in my spirit, that God was going to use my past and my experiences to further the kingdom through the arts and entertainment.” –Simone Alex

Amongst the evils in Hollywood, there is hope. Simone Alex is a testament to the power of God to save people and reveal His truth to them even in the most twisted and deceived places.

With her testimony of God’s redemptive love, Simone has been able to share Jesus with many people and now senses the call to use her gifts in arts and entertainment to bring healthy, family-friendly, enlightening content back to the big screen.

Attention: Hollywood is pushing the destructive ideology of Marxism in almost every new film and show, but there is hope as talented believers work to bring good back to Hollywood.

2. Letter to the American Church Documentary

With their shared passion for quality film and their love for Christ, Simone and Rachel took on the task of taking Eric Metaxas's book Letter to the American Church to the big screen.

The project began after Eric spoke at their church and Rachel visualized his message and knew immediately that it needed to be produced and made available to the public so more people could hear the message and see the unsettling comparisons of modern America and the atrocious tyrannies of the 20th century.

“The film really lays out the parallel starting in 1930s Germany, then we go into what Mao did in China, and what Stalin did, and then we bring it into the modern culture and how cultural Marxism has completely taken over America and the church. So, you will see the whole history of everything, same tactics and same things that were used back then are being used today. –Rachel Tash

Kevin has previously discussed the chilling similarities between the economic conditions of America now as compared to the 1930s as American investors funded the early days of the Nazi war machine.

However, the similarities of our cultural position to the positions of Germany, Russia, China, etc. before the rise of their tyrannical dictators and the deaths of millions of people suggests a far more sinister issue at the heart of our nation.

The documentary film, Letter to the American Church, covers all these similarities while also calling for good people to stand up and fight for liberty.

The film includes segments with experts like Eric Metaxas, Charlie Kirk, Rob McCoy, Seth Gruber, David Englehart, Victor and Eileen Marx, John Amanchukwu, and many more who share about the realities of the cultural war we are in and the necessity for good people to get engaged.

“I was really impacted by the comparison to the Chinese Revolution and how Mao divided the Chinese and identity politics. And Dr. James Lindsay lays that out very clearly. And when he laid it out and you see visually, it laid out that and parallel that to BLM and LGBTQ, it's like, wow, when you see it, it's a whole different ball game. To see the historical images and the current images. You literally can see them flashing side by side and they look exactly the same.” –Simone Alex

Most people know about the evils of the Nazi regime and the horrors of the holocaust, but many people are less aware of the unfathomable evils of the Soviet and Chinese communist parties.

Adolf Hitler was responsible for around 12 million deaths, and Stalin was responsible for around nine million. Both are dwarfed by Mao Zedong, the dictator of the Chinese Communist Party, who was responsible for the deaths of approximately 65 million people in China.

Before the rise of these tyrants, nobody would have dreamed of such catastrophe coming from within. Yet, somehow, all three of these leaders rose to power using tactics that can be seen on display today.

Letter to the American Church serves as a watchman call to awaken the sleeping church and to inspire the good people of America to stand up against tyranny.

Attention: America faces a major turning point event. At this fork in the road, the American people must decide if they will risk it all to preserve liberty and prevent tyranny, or if they will sit back and watch tyranny rise and destroy this great nation.

3. Against the Current – Challenging Hollywood

When making a film that so critically challenges the mainstream, there are bound to be trials to overcome.

There are major hurdles when producing and major project, however, when you add cultural and spiritual warfare into the mix there will be more pushback.

“We did face a lot of obstacles, a lot of battles, some people dropping out, scheduling conflicts, a lot of physical things happened. But we gave this film to God a long time ago and He pushed it through and got us to make it in a very fast time... we did this in under a year, which doesn't normally happen with a documentary, but we had a great team behind us, and there were a lot of challenges, too many to go over in this time. But we prevailed and the film is out, and we hope that it spreads far and wide. We encourage people to get activated, go online, spread it, talk about it, get the book and read it.”

–Rachel Tash

Despite these trials, the film was produced quickly and the powerful message and call to action is now reaching people around the world through Epoch TV.

Perhaps as a testament to the core message of the film, there were many people who profess faith in Christ who refused to take part in the film because they were afraid.

“There were people who said no to the content. They were Hollywood professionals, and they didn't want to tarnish their reputation by working on the film. So, you know, that's how it is, and they were Christians. So that's how deeply embedded this Marxism is. They don't want to get canned.” –Simone Alex

It is this fear that Eric Metaxas calls out in Letter to the American Church as he warns that slumbering or cowering in fear gives the enemy permission to run rampant.

This documentary was made to bring Eric's message to life and make it more accessible for people around the world.

“The Film is streaming right now on Epoch TV, on part of the Epoch Times news channel and part of their website. It is also free for churches to screen it, or organizations, they can go to our website. www.LetterToTheAmericanChurch.com. Same name as the book. And they can sign up to have a free screening at their church or organization anywhere in the country. We're offering that to everybody all over so people can see it and engage. It's a powerful stand against Marxism in this country, and it's a wake-up call to the church to engage and to be active.” –Rachel Tash

Attention: The Letter to the American Church documentary has revealed, even in production, the sickness of fear in American society and the need for good Americans to stand up and fight for liberty.
