

Exposing the Secretive World of Central Bank Digital Currencies

In a world of propaganda and “misinformation,” it becomes increasingly difficult for the truth to make its way into the public eye. Attempts to reveal the threats posed by powerful elites are squashed by a media conglomerate that serves the elites instead of the people. A prime example is the threat of Central Bank Digital Currency (CBDC) which is regularly downplayed by the media.

Thankfully, hope is not lost. There are still good people out there who want to see liberty and the American dream flourish again. One of those great people has decided to risk his reputation, livelihood, and maybe even his life to speak the truth and warn the American people of this threat. This whistleblower has work experience inside the Bank of International Settlements where they are actively plotting global CBDC technology.

In this briefing we will discuss the following:

- » CBDC – The War on Financial Freedom
- » The Push for Central Bank Digital Currencies
- » Creating a Parallel Economy for Resilience

YOUR MISSION: Learn about the threat of CBDC and the progress made by elites in their plan for absolute control.

 WARNING: Globalist elites are developing CBDC technology to control global economic and monetary policy, including individual spending, investing, and giving.

WHY YOU SHOULD CARE

- » The Rising threat of Central Bank Digital Currencies will be devastating to financial freedom.
- » Financial dependence on globalist overlords will strip people of all their freedoms.

- » CBDC will be used to control every spending decision you make, limiting your freedoms down to the last cent.
- » The US Dollar is being intentionally undermined to make way for CBDC.
- » Globalist elites will use major financial crises to coerce people and nations to adopt their CBDCs.
- » A parallel economy is being built as a safe haven where patriots can continue to have financial freedom.
- » The parallel economy needs your help! As more people use these systems, they can become more robust and useful for all users.

Ep. 8-309 (OSINT) Open-Sourced Intelligence Report. This briefing includes a conversation between Kevin Freeman and a whistleblower from inside the Bank of International Settlements. This whistleblower has pledged his life, fortune, and sacred honor as an American Patriot.

1. CBDC – The War on Financial Freedom

A Central Bank Digital Currency (CBDC) would allow governments to have unprecedented control over the finances of individuals, potentially restricting how people can spend their hard-earned money based on predefined conditions.

Similar to the terms and conditions for users on software like Microsoft or Apple, CBDC will likely include a terms of service that allows the governing body that issues the CBDC to control how individuals use that currency.

“Central banks will have absolute control on the rules and regulations that will determine the use of that expression of central bank liability.” –BIS Director, Agustín Guillermo Carstens

Such control mechanisms will lead to higher levels of surveillance and compromise the financial autonomy of citizens, altering the fundamental nature of personal and economic freedom.

“Anytime you go to the grocery store, we’re going to limit how much you can spend. That’s really what they’re talking about.” –Whistleblower

In such a system, specific purchases can be controlled by line items. If you have consumed too much meat, a CBDC could be programmed to prevent you from buying more meat.

This can be applied to gasoline, Church tithes, or even political donations.

 Attention: Whoever controls a global CBDC will control the world.

2. The Push for Central Bank Digital Currencies

Knowing that CBDC will give the elites absolute control over the people, how will they convince them to accept it?

One theory the whistleblower shares is that the elites will destroy our current economic and monetary systems using a major crisis, and then offer CBDC as a solution to save people from the destruction.

“They’re purposely destroying the currency to move us to a new one.” –Whistleblower

This threat of rampant inflation, similar to what happened in the Whistleblower’s home country, is what galvanized him to speak up and warn the American people.

A centralized digital currency would give the government incredible insight into personal spending habits, leading to a massive invasion of privacy.

Such surveillance could suppress freedom of expression and foster a climate of fear and control, potentially leading to authoritarian governance.

“They’re going to force these countries into a platform, and they’re probably going to create some sort of economic turmoil or something that will force, countries to adhere to what they’re doing because they will have the solution in place.” –Whistleblower

There will be countries that do not wish to submit to CBDC. They know that losing economic sovereignty to foreign or centralized powers would undermine their national interests and make economies vulnerable to external manipulation.

It is expected that countries that refuse to adopt CBDC will be forced or coerced through multiple means, including economic warfare, pandemics, or other forms of crisis.

This makes weaker nations, that are already susceptible to external manipulation, unable to fend for themselves, and unable to determine their own destinies.

 Attention: CBDC is on the horizon and the globalist elites will stop at nothing to make it a global reality.

3. Creating a Parallel Economy for Resilience

To resist the rising threat of globalist control, we must build a parallel economy.

Building a parallel economy can offer individuals an alternative to a centralized financial system, providing more freedom and stability.

A robust parallel economy acts as a hedge, offering resilience against the financial disasters the authoritarian cult intends to use to centralize the global monetary and economic systems.

“We can create a technology that will help us/ protect us against this onslaught.” –Whistleblower

Technology is being used for evil, but we can also use it for good. Using electronic payment systems, like debit cards, the world could once again transact in gold and silver.

“In the old days... you could walk in with gold or silver and go show up at any bank, and they would turn that weight of gold or silver into a coin that was legal tender that you could then use... we could do that electronically.” –Kevin Freeman

This technology would allow States to build a new and protected monetary system separate from the control of the globalist elites.

Other states, nations, and peoples would then be able to participate in this parallel economy, granting a new measure of economic freedom to people around the world who are seeking a safe haven from authoritarian rule.

Attention: Building a parallel economy is an essential safeguard as CBDC has become an imminent and unavoidable threat.

It's important to act now with state based transactional gold and silver!!

In the case of the whistleblower, he shared what life is like just buying groceries during hyper-inflationary times. While we can not be sure of the future, imagine having some ready money in state-based transactional gold and silver that allows worry-free purchasing of food for your family. Gold typically holds its value; you can have peace of mind knowing that your transactional gold will keep up with food costs vs a devalued or controlled currency. In addition to offering fair weights and measures, state-based transactional gold and silver would allow you to buy the food you want to buy instead of what a CBDC might authorize you to purchase. Remember CBDC is about control.

According to Article 1 Section 10 of the Constitution, states can have their own alternative currency as long as it is backed by gold or silver. It is time to make this happen in your state! Contact your legislator and encourage them to move this forward!
