

Background Briefing: If you are a regular Economic War Room member, you have been receiving updates about the importance of weaponizing your money to protect yourself, your family, and America. We have uncovered even more information on how our adversaries are using our capital markets against us and have been developing plans to address this in more detail as we move into Season Two.

Our focus on this mission is to ensure understanding on how best to apply Economic Battle Plan™ tools to create impact. Weaponizing (or mobilizing) your money around pro-America investments is critical as we move forward to protect our liberty.

As we dive deeper into the Economic Battle Plans™, this week's mission includes highlights from Ep. 6 \(CHINA RX\), Ep 5 \(Markets are Nervous\), Ep. 18 \(Cyber Protection\), and Ep. 29/30 \(Personal Protection\). We encourage you to watch these shows and download the complete Economic Battle Plans™ for each show.

Your Mission: To learn how to better utilize the weekly battle plans to strengthen America and your economic freedoms.

Economic War Rooms purpose is to be your "go to" place for information, education, and tools you can use to make a difference.

Why Americans need a War Room:

1. Politicians are not the answer. They are important but rarely solve the problem.
2. Do not listen to most of the media. You can't be the part of the answer to every problem America is facing.
3. Our job is to help you leverage your money to protect yourself, your family, and America.

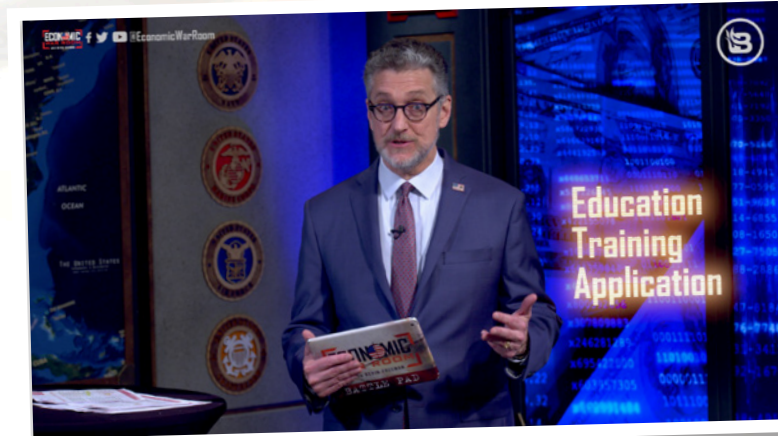

Thank you to the Economic Patriots that have chosen to accept our missions! We are just getting started in the Economic War Room, but we have gained awareness at the right levels of government. We need to continue this progress and a bottom-up group of economic patriots like you can make a real difference in passing a strong America to future generations.

(OSINT) – Open Sourced Intelligence Briefing

Kevin Freeman shares a battlefield update with highlights of season one and how to leverage your Economic Battle Plan™.

1. A Recap of Season One and our First 38 Episodes:

- Economic War Room is designed to be your weekly intelligence briefing on critical topics impacting you.
- We covered a wide range in Season One. Are you investing in the right areas? Is your 401k or pension at risk? The Threat of Socialism, Building a Legacy, Cyber threats, Geo-Political Threats, The China Threat, Debt Crisis, EMP/solutions. Plus, new investment opportunities like 5G, grid resilience, energy, and personal security. Also, financial market updates and how to be prepared.
- We brought together some of the brightest people in the nation. Guests have included Lieutenant Colonel Allen West, Congressman Bob McEwen, Frank Gaffney, Jackie Deason, Dr. Everett Piper, John Mauldin, David Tice, Lieutenant General Steven Quast, Jim Woolsey (former Director of CIA), Glenn Beck, Fred Fleitz (recent Chief of Staff for the National Security Council), Congressman Louie Gohmert, and Herman Cain.

- We've also introduced you to some hidden movers and shakers that are experts in their fields. People like Luke Rosiak, Troy Andrews, Rosemary Gibson, Adam Kraft, and Declan Ganley. They're not household names, at least not yet, but they're experts in their fields and you can learn a lot from them.
- The Economic War Room was built to be more than just another financial news or opinion show. Each episode is designed to provide you with an action plan to protect your family, your money, and our future.
- The goal is to cover what the real problem actually is and what you should do about it.

2. REVIEW: Examples of how Economic Battle Plans™ link to weaponizing your money. Also, how to benefit from Economic War Room.

A. China Rx prescription drugs

Guess where many of our prescription and over-the-counter medicines are made. They're made in China. Did you know that a large number of Americans died from medicines made in China that were tainted and prescribed in American hospitals? See clip from Episode 6 and then we'll walk through the battle plan and what you should do about it. (Click the image below to see a short clip.)

The China RX Economic Battle Plan™ includes:

- Quick graphic recap of the episode with comprehensive notes.
- On page 3, we talk about country of origin labeling legislation. Did you know that legislation failed in the past? Congress was going to mandate that prescription manufacturers explain where the drugs are being made. We should revive that bill.
- We give you talking points. Turn to page 10. You will find talking points you can bring up with your representatives when they have those town hall meetings. When your congressman finally comes out of his office to meet with you, you will be prepared to educate them on this problem. You can share how medicines are a strategic asset and why we need tracking and forecasting system.
- On page 11, we give you action steps for your life. What can you do? One of the most important is that we give you a website where you can learn about the ingredients in your medicines and where they're made.

QUINT - Open Sourced Intelligence Briefing
Conversation with Rosemary Gibson, author of China Rx Exposing the Risks of America's Dependence on Drug Suppliers.

C. China's goal is to dominate and displace American companies in advanced industries including the pharmaceutical sector. China's goal is to become the pharmacy to the U.S. and rest of the world, part of its Made in China 2025 plan.

D. Industry sources say the pharmaceutical industry is enabling this shift because of lower manufacturing costs and demand among Chinese consumers for western pharmaceuticals. U.S.-based and other western companies see market opportunities but are paying a high price, falling into the "China trap" as China steals intellectual property for next generation drugs, manufacturing technology, and business information including distribution and pricing.

E. Country-of-origin labeling legislation was introduced in Congress a decade and defeated. An industry source said companies thought it wouldn't be good for their business if consumers knew where their medicines are made.

F. More than 99 percent of Americans don't trust medicines made in China, according to polling data.

Solutions:

- 1. Medicines as a Strategic Asset: Be careful of the high price of cheap, our medicines need to be considered a strategic asset and not just a cheap commodity. Oil and food commodities are recognized as strategic assets by the United States. Our medicines should be treated as a strategic asset.
- 2. A tracking and forecasting system: We need a tracking and forecasting system that documents global supply and demand of medicines and their key components and conducts risk assessments to identify vulnerabilities in the quality and reliability of the supply chain. Country risk assessments are required to ensure we have diversified sources of critical ingredients and medicines. America needs to know where we are vulnerable and act accordingly to mitigate the risks.
- 3. Targeted incentives for domestic manufacturing of high priority medicines: Financial incentives are needed for domestic manufacturing of high priority medicines for procurement especially by the Department of Defense and the Department of Health and Human Services. We must ensure the U.S. has both the manufacturing facilities and people with the skills needed to make medicines, in the interest of public health and national security.

Action Steps- What You Can Do

1. Become an Economic War Room (EWR) Patriot and stand with EWR as we seek to get an executive order or legislation that:
 - a. requires the U.S. establish an ongoing capability to conduct continuous risk assessments of vulnerabilities in the quality and reliability of the supply of medicines for civilian and military use and dependence on strategic competitor countries.
 - b. establishes and implements a plan to reduce the nation's reliance on strategic competitor.
 - c. identifies investment incentives for domestic manufacturing of high priority medicines and critical components especially for procurement by the Department of Defense.
2. Find out where your medicines are made. CALL the company listed on the package: If it is an amber plastic bottle without a label, ask your pharmacist for the name of the manufacturer, distributor, or package found on the drug package.
- OR
3. Go to the website china.rx: type the name of your prescription drug, look for the manufacturer or distributor's name, and click on a photo of the label. Call the company and ask where the finished drug and active ingredients are made.
3. Read the book, China Rx: Exposing the Risks of America's Dependence on China for Medicine, by Rosemary Gibson and Jansard Prasad Singh for more details and information on this important topic.

B. Markets are Nervous In Episode 5 we talk about your money. We discussed at length with top experts about what you could do if the stock market started to drop. This was covered when the stock market was near all-time highs in the fall of 2018.

The battle plan on nervous markets makes several important points:

- First, notice that we say no one can predict with precision or certainty the start or finish to a market drop. But there are some signs to watch out for found on pages 2 and 3, then later on page 5.
- You get a review of how professional money managers hedge their portfolios. That's what investors can consider if they fear a market decline.
- On page 7, we talk about diversification strategies that you could consider.
- Of course, we don't provide advice. We provide education and we also point you to where you should look for advice and how to find an advisor who can help.

C. How to Protect yourself from hackers. Episode 18 covers “10 things you can do now to protect yourself from hackers.” Do you know why you shouldn’t use public Wi-Fi? We brought a security expert Kevin Henson into the War Room to explain.

Episode 18’s Cyber Battle Plan covers:

- A recap of the dangers in the cyber world on pages 1-3. Then on page 4 it gets personal and practical. You can see hacker tools that are being used to steal your identity and your money.
- On page 6, we list 10 practical things you can do to protect yourself and your company.

D. Personal Protection for you and your family. In Episodes 29 and 30 we brought in a retired Force-Recon Marine Lt. Colonel to talk about personal and family protection. A firearm is a useful tool. In many situations, however, it is not the only tool you will need. First, understand a firearm is just one component of your defensive plan. It is not the full capability of what you have or may need.

Ep 29 and 30 Battle Plan Covers:

- Sorry, your personal protection is too important for a highlight. No Short cuts allowed, download and review the full battleplan by clicking here.

E. Other examples of how Economic War Room looks to the future with investments:

- In Episode 13, we cover where to consider investing as we adopt the new 5G standard for mobile communications.
- Have you looked at investments in the energy sector? Do you know the difference between upstream, midstream, and downstream? We covered this in episodes 3 and 4 with an update in 28.
- Planning for a college education for your kids? We covered that with Dr. Everett Piper of Oklahoma Wesleyan University.

“In the Economic War Room we cover practical things. We take the headlines and we make them actionable. We also explain how we can all work together to make a real difference in America.

No longer are you going to be held hostage to anger and anxiety and outrage. Like you, I’m frustrated that we see the bad in the world every night and nothing seems to get better.”

2. We learn how to weaponize our money to make certain that our families and future generations enjoy the miracle we call America.
3. "What we see as a marketplace, our enemy views as a battlespace™." Make no mistake we are in an economic war, and you need an war room to understand what is going on.

In the Economic War Room, we encourage Americans to be the “small ships that make the difference.” You cannot rely on the government or the President to solve your problems. You have to make a difference. It is up to you to help take our country back.

Economic Patriot Action Plan
