

Making Money Great Again: Gold and Silver

In an era defined by inflation, record federal debt, and financial uncertainty, a constitutional solution is emerging at the state level: transactional gold and silver. Spearheaded by policy advocates, state legislators, and fintech innovators, this movement aims to empower citizens with a stable, inflation-resistant alternative to the U.S. dollar by making gold and silver functional forms of money once again.

In this briefing, we will discuss the following:

- » Constitutional Currency – An Inflation-Proof Alternative
- » Tax Barriers and Legislative Solutions – Making Gold Truly Spendable
- » The Constitutional Currency Movement and Your Role in It

YOUR MISSION: Learn more about Pirate Money, the counter to inflation and CBDC, and join the Constitutional Currency movement.

WHY YOU SHOULD CARE

- » As the dollar continues to lose value, this system gives everyday Americans access to sound money that holds its purchasing power.
- » Even if your gold's price rise is due to inflation, you are taxed unfairly under current IRS policy. Legislative fixes can change that, protecting your savings and spending power.
- » Your involvement could shape policies that enhance economic stability in your state, directly impacting your financial future.

Ep. 9-339 (OSINT) Open-Sourced Intelligence Report. This briefing includes a conversation between Kevin Freeman and Mike Carter. Mike is a producer of the Economic War Room® and an American Patriot.

Mike Carter, co-host of Pirate Money Radio, is a Co-Founder of the NSIC Institute, a producer of the Economic War Room, and the Economic War Room patriot leading state efforts considering transactional gold and silver.

Pirate Money Radio aims to inform and provide economic solutions to listeners, emphasizing the importance of being faithful with money, which includes giving, spending, and investing based on liberty, security, and values (LSV). Each week, Kevin Freeman discusses various economic challenges and aims to help people prepare and protect themselves from potential cyber-attacks, inflation, and other financial crises, offering real-world solutions.

1. Constitutional Currency – An Inflation-Proof Alternative

In Article 1, Section 10, the U.S. Constitution granted states the power to make gold and silver legal tender. This is an enumerated power well established and acknowledged in various Supreme Court rulings.

Today, new fintech platforms allow users to store precious metals in secure depositories and spend them via debit cards, making precious metals truly transactional.

Combining these ideas, a state could declare gold and silver as legal tender, store gold and silver bullion in a state-authorized depository and allow citizens to transact business in gold or silver using a debit card.

“You can’t (easily) spend a gold coin. But what you can do is take part of your money, put it in a bullion depository authorized by a state, attach a debit card to it, and spend gold and silver anywhere that you spend Mastercard.” –Mike Carter

This approach isn’t just theoretical. It’s already working. Whether it’s buying groceries, gas, or even an Uber ride, consumers are now able to spend gold in real time using technology like Glint Pay or Kinesis and others currently available or in development.

In doing so, consumers can protect against a weakening dollar and align with a form of money historically recognized for its reliability.

However, this is not yet backed by any state, and thus your money is still taxed for capital gains.

⚠ Attention: Gold and silver could soon be used like cash, backed by law and powered by tech, to protect you from inflation.

2. Tax Barriers and Legislative Solutions – Making Gold Truly Spendable

The IRS currently classifies gold as a “collectible” rather than currency, subjecting it to capital gains taxes, even when the value increase is due solely to inflation.

Taxing inflation is wrong! However, new legislation in states like Utah (HB 306) is designed to exempt gold from these taxes by recognizing it as legal tender.

“If gold were fully recognized as money, it should not be subject to capital gains tax.”

– Marlo Oaks, Utah Treasurer

Once implemented, these reforms would allow citizens to use gold without triggering a tax every time they make a purchase, removing a major roadblock to widespread adoption.

These legal changes are vital. They remove friction from using gold in everyday transactions and align modern policy with historical monetary norms.

⚠ Attention: As long as gold is taxed like a collectible it can't fully hedge against inflation. State laws can fix this!

3. The Constitutional Currency Movement and Your Role in It

Momentum is growing. States like Utah, Texas, Florida, Kansas, and Oklahoma are actively passing or advancing bills to make gold and silver functional currencies.

This movement is bipartisan and expanding rapidly, but it relies heavily on public engagement to cross the finish line.

“Right now, this is your opportunity to make a real difference. It’s why we created the Economic War Room. Are you facing inflation? Are you worried about being debanked? Are you worried about wokeness? And if you say the wrong thing on the internet, they take your money away from you? Or are you worried about the ‘great taking?’ All of those things get solved with this plan.” –Kevin Freeman

Legislators are responding to phone calls, emails, and pressure from informed citizens.

In Texas, HB 1056 already has 80 cosponsors, and Florida is moving forward with SB 132 and HB 999.

“If Texas and Florida do this, it won’t be stopped.” –Governor Ron DeSantis (as recounted by Kevin Freeman)

Both states are coordinating with financial regulators and building infrastructure to support secure, trustworthy gold transactions.

⚠ Attention: This isn’t just policy talk—your phone call could shape the future of money in your state. In Utah, the Governor vetoed HB 306, which passed nearly unanimously. Your voice to Utah legislators could support an override of that veto.

What is HB 306?

HB306 empowers vendors and service providers to the State of Utah with the choice to be paid in gold or silver through a secure, electronic gold-backed system, procured thru an open, competitive bid process, strengthening Utah's precious metals leadership since 2011.

"It's about giving Utahns options to store and exchange the value of their hard work." — Speaker Mike Schultz

What the Bill Does:

- Gives vendors a choice: Gold or silver vs. fiat U.S. Dollars.
- Electronic payment system: Easy, secure, audited, insured.
- State simply sends dollars → vendor receives precious metals vaulted, insured in Utah.
- Redeemable in physical metal or USD.

What it Matters?

- Protects Utahns from inflation caused by federal debt and overspending.
- Preserves value of earnings via sound money as Article I, Section 10 of the U.S. Const. sets forth.
- Makes gold-backed systems accessible to all—not just the wealthy.

VETO OVERRIDE

Strong Legislative Support

- House: Unanimous YES
- Senate: Only 4 No votes (Minority members)
- Broad bipartisan agreement after thorough hearings and expert input

Top Reasons to Override the Veto

1. Expert-Input

- Financial and constitutional experts agree: Utahns deserve choice in how they store value, get paid, transact.

2. It's About Choice

- HB 306 is not a mandate—it's just another way to pay, offering the freedom to choose sound money.

3. Fights Inflation

- With the dollar losing purchasing power, gold and silver offer time-tested stability and long-term protection.

4. Restores Constitutional Rights

- Upholds Article I, Section 10 of the U.S. Constitution—your right to use gold and silver as money.

Call to Action

Inexplicably, Governor Cox vetoed HB 306 despite overwhelming bipartisan support in the House & Senate...

- Don't let the freedom of sound money slip away
- Contact your State Representative and Senator TODAY
- Urge them to Override Gov. Cox's Veto of HB306 & Give Utahns a Real Choice against rampant inflation!
