

Threats to the Homeland

In an era of escalating global and domestic threats, the United States faces multifaceted challenges that jeopardize national security, economic stability, and societal cohesion. From Iran's nuclear ambitions and potential terrorist sleeper cells to Chinese bio-warfare risks and the rise of Sharia supremacist communities, these issues demand urgent attention. Coupled with the need for homeland preparedness, these threats underscore the importance of vigilance and proactive measures to protect American interests. This Economic BattlePlan™ outlines critical insights into these dangers and provides actionable steps for individuals to strengthen national resilience.

In this briefing we will discuss the following:

- » The Iranian Threat: Nuclear Ambitions, Sleeper Cells, and Policy Response
- » Emerging Axis of Domestic Subversion: China, Sharia, Cultural Threats
- » National Resilience and the Need for Homeland Preparedness

YOUR MISSION: Understand the interconnected threats posed by Iran, China, and Sharia supremacist ideologies, and learn practical steps to enhance personal and national preparedness to safeguard America's security and values.

WHY YOU SHOULD CARE

- » Iran's potential nuclear capabilities and sleeper cells within the U.S. could directly threaten your safety and national stability, as unchecked aggression may lead to catastrophic attacks on American soil.
- » The infiltration of foreign ideologies and biological threats from adversaries like China could disrupt your food supply, local communities, and constitutional freedoms, impacting your daily life and economic security.
- » Preparing for potential crises ensures you and your family can remain safe and self-sufficient during disruptions, from terrorist attacks to societal unrest, preserving your well-being in uncertain times.

Ep. 9-352 (OSINT) Open-Sourced Intelligence Report. This briefing includes a conversation between Kevin Freeman and Frank Gaffney. Frank is a friend of the Economic War Room® and an American Patriot.

Frank Gaffney is the President of the Institute for the American Future. In addition, Mr. Gaffney is the host of "Securing America," a daily program on the Real America's Voice network and podcast; the driving force behind SecuringAmerica.Substack.com; and the author of a daily audio and video commentary, the "Secure Freedom Minute."

Mr. Gaffney is also associated with the various coalitions supported by the Institute. For example, he serves as the Vice Chairman of the Committee on the Present Danger: China (CPDC) and the co-founder of the Sovereignty Coalition (SovCo).

In 1987, Frank Gaffney was tapped by President Ronald Reagan at the age of 34 to become the Assistant Secretary of Defense for International Security Policy after his four years as the Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense for Nuclear Forces and Arms Control Policy. He went on to found and lead for thirty-seven years the Center for Security Policy to champion the practice of what "the Gipper" called "peace through strength" through a high-impact/low-overhead model Mr. Gaffney dubbed "the Special Forces in the War of Ideas," now being practiced at the Institute for the American Future.

1. The Iranian Threat: Nuclear Ambitions, Sleeper Cells, and Policy Response

Iran's pursuit of nuclear weapons and its potential to deploy terrorist sleeper cells within the United States represent a grave threat to national security.

The regime's decades-long efforts to build nuclear infrastructure—possibly aided by North Korea, China, and Russia—suggest it may already possess or be close to acquiring nuclear capabilities.

Some estimates indicate Iran holds enough highly enriched uranium to produce up to 15 nuclear warheads.

"We're going to pray for a free Iran movement, because that's the ultimate answer. The Iranian people rising up and saying, We want freedom."

—Kevin Freeman

Recent U.S. and Israeli military actions, such as President Trump's deployment of bunker buster bombs, were aimed at halting these capabilities. However, the subsequent ceasefire may have prematurely ended efforts to fully dismantle Iran's nuclear ambitions.

Domestically, the situation is equally alarming. Under the Biden administration, more than 10 million individuals crossed the southern border, many unvetted "got aways."

Got Aways are people who crossed the border illegally, were observed or detected, but were not apprehended by law enforcement.

"We know for sure... that 10 million plus individuals took advantage of the opportunity to come here... Some of them were 'got aways'. We don't know who those were. We don't know why they're here." —Frank Gaffney

Among them, Iranian-linked operatives—including Hezbollah, the Quds Force, and even assassination teams targeting U.S. leaders—may already be embedded within the country.

After the failed assassination attempts on President Trump during his campaign, Iran ordered an operative to assassinate him.

Many such operatives could be assigned to terror attacks of all kinds, one of the greatest threats being attacks on US infrastructure, like the power grid.

While these threats are not new, the number and scale of such threats are heightened by the influx of military-aged men across our borders under the Biden administration.

Attention: Iran's nuclear ambitions and sleeper cells in the U.S. threaten both global stability and domestic safety, requiring urgent policy changes and public vigilance.

2. Emerging Axis of Domestic Subversion: China, Sharia, Cultural Threats

The convergence of Chinese espionage and Sharia supremacist initiatives within U.S. borders presents a new and growing internal threat.

Chinese nationals—many under the legal control of the Chinese Communist Party (CCP)—have been caught smuggling dangerous pathogens into American laboratories.

In one instance, students at the University of Michigan were found with a fungus capable of destroying crops like corn and wheat, jeopardizing U.S. food security.

“What these folks were doing... was experimenting with a pathogen that would be devastating if released into our food supply because it affects all kinds of food stuffs, agricultural products, corn, rice, and wheat.” –Frank Gaffney

Meanwhile, in Texas, the proposed East Plano Islamic Center (EPIC) City represents a 400-acre residential enclave. Would it be governed by Sharia law over the Constitution?

Hopefully not! Sharia Supremacy would be a threat to the United States as a belief system wherein Islamic law overrides all other legal systems, including the U.S. Constitution.

Led by radical clerics linked to the Muslim Brotherhood's enforcement arm, the Fiqh Council, Sharia Supremacy would threaten to undermine American constitutional values by creating parallel legal systems.

Led by radical clerics linked to the Muslim Brotherhood's enforcement arm, the Fiqh Council, such communities threaten to undermine American constitutional values by creating parallel legal systems.

One such cleric, Yasir Kadi, was recorded urging Sunni Muslims to support Iran against the United States.

These efforts reflect what experts call the “Red Green Axis”—an alliance between radical Islamic movements and Marxist-socialist ideology aimed at weakening Western institutions from within.

These two groups would never mix in the Middle East, as radical Islam is fundamentally anti-feminism and anti-LGBTQ; however, in the Western world, Islam sees the radical socialists as ‘useful idiots’ who can help them overthrow the Judeo-Christian culture that made the West strong.

Attention: Chinese bio-warfare threats and Sharia supremacist enclaves could undermine America's food security and constitutional integrity, demanding scrutiny of foreign influence.

3. National Resilience and the Need for Homeland Preparedness

Given the scope and immediacy of the threats discussed, homeland preparedness is not just prudent—it is essential.

Colonel John Mills, a decorated national security expert, advocates for basic, actionable steps that every American family can take.

This isn't about stockpiling for an apocalypse—it's about readiness for temporary but potentially life-altering disruptions.

“We need a modicum of preparation. This is not crazy prepper stuff... you don't want to be part of the crazed mob at Costco, and you don't want to be on the freeway going somewhere, but you're not sure where.” –Kevin Freeman

Whether facing bioterrorism, civil unrest, or infrastructure failure, being unprepared leaves individuals vulnerable to chaos.

Mills recommends avoiding mob scenarios, like panic-buying crowds at Costco, and maintaining basic supplies—water, food, power sources—for at least 72 hours.

Events like the COVID-19 pandemic and mass riots have already revealed weaknesses in our supply chains and social fabric.

These vulnerabilities must be addressed by personal action, not just government programs.

Download the Economic BattlePlan™ Episode 106: Insurrection and Violence for more preparedness strategies.

Preparedness fosters personal independence and family safety while reducing strain on emergency services. Moreover, it aligns with the foundational American value of self-reliance.

Attention: Homeland preparedness equips Americans to navigate crises with confidence, ensuring personal and community resilience against multifaceted threats.
